TRY BEFORE YOU BUY

How It Works

Any qualified client who is interested in purchasing, is eligible to receive one of our products at their location for a trial period of 2 weeks to make a decision.

- Diversitech will manufacture the equipment to your specifications and then consign the unit to you for a no-obligation, 2-week demonstration trial period.
- The customer is responsible for the shipping cost from our factory to their location and the return cost freight pre-paid if they decide to return the unit.
- Diversitech will cover for the cost of production and the filters if a purchase is made. The client will cover the cost of any damage, missing parts and replacement filters if the unit is returned.
- Diversitech's years of application experience ensure that the proper consignment equipment is chosen and offered at the best possible price.

IMPORTANT: The prospective client will be responsible for the cost of repairing any units returned with missing parts or in a damaged state due to misuse at their facility, or poor packaging/crating, resulting in damage while in transit.
